If curious motorists begin a search the pair shift their voices as the chase gets warm. When searchers get within 20 yards of the first voice, it becomes silent. In a few seconds the second voice some 500 yards away starts. This has gone on for hours and the "hare" or "hares" thus far have eluded the "hounds." But the chase in the darkness affords quite a bit of amusement to the two preachers who are able to witness every move of their pursuers for they usually have flashlights.

ATLANTA, GA., SEPTEMBER 15, 1937.

A CERTAIN CURE

Judge Jesse M. Wood, of Fulton criminal court, declaring that drunken automobile drivers present the greatest menace to life on Atlanta streets today, has inaugurated a system of heavy penalties for defendants convicted in his court on charges of driving while intoxi-

Straight chain gang sentences or heavy fines were imposed by Judge Wood in a number of cases this week and he served notice that all such violators of the law may expect similar treatment at his hands in the future.

Judge Wood's policy will be universally approved. Far too large a proportion of automobile accidents on the streets and highways of Georgia are primarily due to the effect of alcohol upon the drivers. The ancient adage that gasoline and alcohol do not mix is reproven daily.

The only way to cure the condition is by inflexible enforcement of the law and the imposition of severe penalties. There should be no discrimination in such cases, neither influence nor position offering any mitigation for the criminal recklessness of a man, or woman, who will attempt to drive an automobile while in a condition which menaces the lives of innocent men, women and children.

The condition described by Judge Wood once again proves the farcical situation arising out of Georgia's so-called prohibition law. These men who sit behind steering wheels and weave in ghastly irresponsibility over the streets met no difficulty whatsoever in procuring the liquor they drank, regardless of the "dry" laws of the state. The very existence of that law. in fact, aggravates the condition because it reits in bootlegged concoctions which render the state of those who drink them far more dangerous, both to themselves and others, than would be the case if their drinking had been confined to tested, licensed beverages.

The courts of the state generally should follow Judge Wood's lead in dealing drastically with offenders of this type. Neither should there be any mitigation of punishment through pardon or parole. If this type of potential killer is impressed with the certainty of quick and severe punishment, the result will be seen in a rapid drop in the number of traffic fatalities in the state.

And, to add emphasis to the warning, the new system of drivers' licenses should be enlisted in the campaign by making conviction of drunken driving automatic reason for cancellation of the permit to drive at all, drunk or

MERITED REBUKE

Condemnation by a committee of the American Bar Association of the growing tendency to make national spectacles of trial courts will receive the indorsement of all thinking people.

The transformation of a court of law into something analogous to a vaudeville show is one of the principal reasons for the lack of respect for the law which is the chief contributor to crime in the United States today.

Coupled with the practice of interfering with the course of justice on nothing but technical grounds, it has served to create in the criminal mind a belief that the courts are but a joke and, even though caught in flagrante delicto, the chances of acquittal are at least equal to the risk of conviction

The bar association is the proper organization for remedy of this situation. The courts are controlled by lawyers and if the bar itself cannot end evils in court practice, certainly no

There are few human institutions which intrinsically merit the dignity which should envelop the law. If that dignity is destroyed, it is only the courts themselves which are to blame. The court has the authority to demand proper respect of all who come in contact with its processes. If it does not use this authority. it has only itself to blame.

Then there was the absent-minded notable who came to the end of the stirring address prepared by his ghost and added, "Unquote."

DESERVED RECOGNITION

In the news columns of this issue appears the announcement of Senator G. Everett Millican for re-election to the upper house of the state legislature from the new 52nd district, composed of Fulton county. The senator from the new district will be named at a special election to be held on October 20.

For many years Fulton county sought through its representatives in the general assembly to have the county named as a senatorial district. Under the rotation system, with Fulton, Clayton and Henry counties comprising a single senatorial district, this county had no direct representation in the senate during the years that the senators came from Henry and Clayton countles.

Despite the fact that Fulton has for many years had several times the population of many of the small senatorial districts, that it has paid nearly a third of the taxes to the state government, and that from practically every standpoint it was entitled to constant representation in the senate, the efforts to secure this recognition regularly met with failure at every session of the legislature until the one which met in January of this year. At that session, largely through the earnest and skillful efforts of Senator Millican, the longsought goal was achieved, and Fulton county was named as the 52nd senatorial district. This action meant that both Fulton county and the two other counties in the former district would have to name new senators. In effect, Senator Millican, by his brilliant and successful fight, legislated himself out of office. Under these circumstances, it is only fair and just that a public official who has served so brilliantly should be re-elected without opposition to the post he has filled with such outstanding value to the community.

Senator Millican served with distinction in both branches of city council before being elected to the legislature, where he served for three years prior to the enactment of the legislation which created the new Fulton senatorial district and at the same time abolished the district he represented. His constructive record of outstanding public service entitles him not only to re-election, but renaming without opposition to a new term, a part of which he relinquished as a result of his successful fight for an objective long sought by his constituents.

GEORGIA'S GREATEST RESOURCE

That the greatest asset possessed by the state of Georgia is the character of her people was emphasized anew in a recent speech before the Rotary Club of Newnan delivered by Charles J. Haden, Atlanta capitalist.

"A conservative and contented people, who respect the rights of persons and the rights of things, is the surest protection of the future of industry," said Mr. Haden. ""The right of the individual citizen to work if he wants to, to go and come as he pleases, to be a freeman, is of the essence of Georgia character today as much as it was a hundred years ago. Riots and mobs and the seizure of private property can make no headway in Georgia."

Transcending all other natural resources. exceeding in value all the hidden wealth of ields and mines and waters, a greater asset than climate, the human character of the people Georgia makes this state great. It is upon the ancient self-dependence and upright integrity of her native sons and daughters that the future development of Georgia depends.

Georgians have ever held true to the sacred tenets of the founding fathers who created the United States government to provide a land where liberty-loving men might be free. The heritage of Georgia, and the south, finds extreme socialistic ideas, regimentation of a people, bureaucracy and radicalism utterly repugnant, regardless of the guise these foes may

Industry, business, commerce and true American enterprise, seeking a land and a people where all may prosper with equal rights and equal opportunity, turns more and more to the south as the influence of foreign social isms is more and more felt in the industrial centers of the east, with their preponderantly foreign-born populations.

KNOW YOUR TIMBER

(From the Sandersville Progress.) By EMILY WOODWARD.

Knowing his onions may be entirely unimpor-tant to the man who owns timberland or forest woodland in Georgia but knowing his timber vital matter about which he cannot afford to be indifferent.

With two pulp mills already established in the state and others on the way, the fate of this industry, its profit to Georgia and to the timber owner are, in large measure, in the hands of the man who owns the trees.

This man needs, first of all, to know his trees. the number, the sizes, and what they will yield in cords of wood or units of other products—how much pulpwood, how many poles, or board feet of saw timber. Next, he should know the money value of each of these products in order to be able to convert his stumpage—standing timber—into the product that will yield him the greatest profit.

Above all, the timber owner should beware of selling his stumpage blindly in lump lots. The wise cattle owner would not think of selling his hard for a lump ways with a selling his herd for a lump sum, neither will the wise tim-ber owner agree to a wholesale trade for his standing timber. The wise cattleman knows his cows, their individual weights and quality and he sells them on that basis. The timberland owner must also know his trees, their sizes and poten-tialities in pulpwood, lumber, logs, ties or poles. This is the only way the owners of timberland

This is the only way the owners of timberland in Georgia can successfully discharge the three-fold responsibility which comes to them with the paper industry's southern trend—the responsibility to themselves to get the best money return for their products—responsibility to the state to safeguard one of its most valuable resources, which in turn is the only way to meet the responsibility to the new industry to provide raw materials and thus insure its permanent success.

FAIR ENOUGH Catching Fish Is Glorious Fun If You Don't Do It for a Living

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

Bill Jones, though a bachelor, maintained an elaborate establishment in keeping with his wealth. His apartment occupied an entire floor in the Wiltshire building, and there were servants in uniform to keep it in order. Every luxury and privilege that money could buy or the mind conceive was Bill's for the taking.

That, perhaps, was the trouble. For he was fed up and bored. He had done everything and had everything, not once but so many times that nothing could quicken his pulse. Caviar would seem dreadful stuff if one had to live on it for 60 days.

One evening, between yawns, Bill said to his secretary: "Smith, my friend, life has cheated me. Here I have everything that other men covet, yet I lack the one thing that many of the poorest possess. I lack contentment. And since wealth has brought me nothing but boredom, I shall seek contentment in poverty. True happiness is found, I have read, in the simple life. And that is the life I shall lead hereafter."

"It sounds reasonable," said the secretary. "When do we start?"

"It sounds reasonable," said the secretary. "When do we start?"
"You don't," said Bill. "I do. I shall give you power of attorney to handle my affairs and then I'll disappear. I'll send you my address, but keep it to yourself." And thus it was arranged.

Next morning, dressed in his oldest clothes, with $200 in his pocket and joy in his heart, Bill walked to a bus station and bought a ticket for the hinterland.

He found what he sought in the foothills—a two-room log cabin, an old orchard, a sloping meadow, a cultivated field, a quiet stream, a forest. It was five miles from a country store, ten miles from He found what he sought in the foothills-

There's Positively No Dissension on Mercer's Coaching Staff

MERCER UNIVERSITY, MACON, Ga., Sept. 14.—It was just before football practice when Mr. Trot Ware, who is a very red hot alumnus of this institution, introduced me to the athletic staff, as follows:

Mr. Lake Russell, head coach of football and basket-

Mr. L. Franklin Russell, head of the department of physical education.

Mr. L. F. Russell, line coach in football. Mr. Lake Franklin Russell, director of athletics. Mr. Joe Dougherty, coach of the backfield.

Before you start thinking that someone has been guilty of the crime of nepotism in the hiring of all the Russells, let me say very quickly indeed that Mr. Lake Russell is the only Russell here. He is director of athletics, head football and basketball coach, line coach and head of the department of physical edu-His one and only assistant is Joe Dougherty, who comes down this year from the University of Tennessee.

Lake Russell can take less men and do more with them than most any coach in the business. He has demonstrated that here across a span of almost ten years. He has a large varsity squad this year. There are 26 men on it. This includes subs, reserves and every mother's son out for the team. There are just 26 men. While Tech and Georgia and other teams on Mr. Russell's schedule are cutting the first squad to 40 men and sending the other 30 over to the second string squad, he is trying to get something out of 26 men.

The man has been a good coach all along. Bernie Moore, who is turning out champions at L. S. U., use to be head coach here at Mercer and hold all the jobs which are Lake Russell's. He went away to L. S. U. to coach track and one day a political upheaval gave him his chance to coach football. He produces champions. Lake Russell's record here is just as good and perhaps better than Bernie Moore's. It will be, however, a sad day for Mercer when he departs.

He has shouldered all the jobs and this year will have a real department of education. He has the building and the equipment for it in Porter Hall, a brand-new building which is finer than any such gym in the state and a gift to Mercer from one large donor and several others who gave generously. They gave it to Mercer but it was because of their faith and belief in Russell that they gave. Such men are found in many colleges, doing the coaching and at the same time making a very definite contribution to their schools in the way of building friendship and good will.

Incidentally, the Atlanta alumni are going to give the man and his team a dinner at the Atlanta Lawyers' Club dining rooms on the night of October 1, which is the night before the game on the following day with Georgia Tech.

ALL OF WHICH.

All of which brings us back to football. Mr. Russell has out his mental nail file this afternoon, trying to sharpen up the claws of the Mercer Bears.

"We'll lose some games," he said. "That's no se-cret. We've got a great bunch. The whole 26 of them are loyal and hard workers. We've got unusually tough opposition in our own league from teams with larger squads and with more experience. About 11 of our 26 are sophomores. And when we step out of our own league to play our good friends at Georgia Tech and at Georgia, we very likely will get bounced around a bit. But we'll be in there trying and my boys don't quit.

They keep playing football. "We appreciate the games at Tech and Georgia. It has long been my ambition to have Mercer, which is this year beginning its 104th year in Georgia, to have a place on the schedules of the two state schools. We all are in Georgia and Mercer has so many alumni over the state that we want to have them see our team even though we may be on the short side of the score. They are never ashamed of our teams.

'This year we play in Atlanta and in Athens and we are looking forward to both days." The Mercer game is second on Tech's schedule. It should be a good one for Atlanta fans and for the almost 1,000 Mercer alumni in Atlanta. Macon plans a special train and a motorcade tling Burroughs in a return bout to both games. The Athens game comes on October 23.

AS FOR THE TEAM.

There are a couple of centers out for the team. Phil Chastain, from Thomasville, is a junior and the veteran. His substitute is a sophomore, Gordon Laskbrook.

He has four guards on the squad and just four. There are Grady Rainey, from Tifton; Martin Kimsee, from Ohio; Hunter Hurst, from the peach town of Fort Valley, and Art Barrow, from Douglas. Douglas seems to turn out guards. Red Maddox, one of Georgia's great guards, came from there.

There are just four tackles on the squad. Ewing Edge, from Glenwood, Georgia; Jimmy Fitzpatrick, from New Jersey Bill Jones, from Waycross, and Al Gerhardt, from Ohio, make up the tackles. The latter two are sophomores.

He has six ends, a great supply for Mercer. Five, however, are sophomores. Neal Allen, from Albany; Henry Lawrence, from Macon; Tom Steadman, from Elberton; Max Fain, of Thomasville; John Hillyer, of Alabama, and Pete Demetros, of Atlanta, make up that list. Lawrence is the lone player with experience.

He is up against a most unusual problem, is Lake Russell. Just now it looks as if he will be forced to pull Neal Allen back from end to do his kicking.

At any rate, that's the whole of the line.

THE BACKFIELD MEN.

The backfield men find brilliant Wright Bazemore back for his senior year at quarterback. They have a saying around Mercer that if Bazemore were 30 pounds heavier, he weighs less than 150, there probably would be a law against football.

Shanghai Tiger Will Test Chin Of Ben Brown

"Ben Brown will regret many times that he did not meet Batand that he accepted a match with Johnny Lee Chong, the Shanghai Tiger, at the ball park Tuesday night," declared Broadway Johnny Cox yesterday.

Cox is manager of both Chong and Burroughs. Brown was hard put to win a decision over Bur- to roughs here recently, but balked at making weight for the lighter New Orleans boy a second time. Sam Sobel, pilot of the Atlanta flash, pointed out that Brown was gaining weight all the time and that since he was grooming Brown for the light-heavyweight division, he thought it unwise to have Ben lose any weight.

"All right," snorted Broadway
Cox, "if Sobel and Brown want heavier opposition, I'll supply it— in a big way." So the resourceful Johnny called up New Orleans and told his Chinese fighter to get ready, that he had a victim up here for him. "Me ready now. Me comee queeck like Chinese bomb," ejaculated Chong.

The colorful Chinaman weighs near the 165-pound mark and is generally classed as a light-heavyweight. He is a much harder puncher than Burroughs and Cox thinks he can knock out Brown. Ben was accorded new honors Association ranked him tenth middleweight in the world. Ring Mag-azine rates the Atlantan sixth.

The Tech freshmen will not scrimmage the varsity this season, something they have always done in the past. However, they will tangle often with the B team and will play three games with outside foes.

Hugh Mauck, Tech tackle of 1913-1916, was out again yesterday. He lives at Fort Myers, Fla, and is a close friend of Connie Mack whom he will visit this week end. Mauck will sail from New York Wednesday with other Legionnaires for France and Italy. He was highly impressed with the Jackets, particularly as ball handless and taly.

Atlanta Takes Early 2-0 Lead; Leo Moon Will Hurl Tonight.

By JACK TROY. RUSSWOOD PARK, MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 14.—Those Crackers went out again tonight and redis-overed the fact that the Memphis ball club, unlike city, is not built on a bluff.

The Chickasaws, fighting from behind, overcame an early Crack-er two-run lead ot win the open-ing game of the Shaughnessey play-off, 3 to 2.

Mike Martynik, who looks much like old Mike Cvengros, had all his trouble in the first two innings and then settled down to pitch a tre-mendously fine game of baseball. He allowed the Crackers only six hits. Five of them were crammed into the second and third innings. Bobby Durham pitched fine baseball, too, but was the victim of a resounding rally with which the Chicks won the game in the Joe Grace, old enemy of the Crackers, knocked in the tying run and Coaker Triplett, league-leading hitter, lived up to his reputation by scoring Grace with the deciding tally.

BLAME ANDY REESE. The Crackers were inclined to lame Handy Andy Reese with the loss almost as much as Martynik.
Reese made a lulu of a jumping catch in the third to definitely wreck a rally that was headed

And in the eighth, Reese again made a stop of Hooks' smashing grounder that wrecked the Cracker cause. Reese played a neat game at first base during the regular season, but tonight was back at his old spot, second, and turned in a Offensively; Reese was responsible for the first Chick run in the fifth. His double started it. His play was inspiring to the Chicks.

Losing to Memphis at Russwood is nothing new to the Cracker club of this season, however. Tonight's loss was the 10th of the year here. Only Buster Chatham, who played a great game at short, was able to nick Mike Martynik for more than one hit. Buster came through with a single to drive in a run in the second and again sin-gled in the ninth with two men out. He walked once and grounded out in the other time at bat.

TWO FOR TRIPLETT. Of the seven hits Memphis secured off Durham, Triplett got two. There was only one extra base hit in the speedy, errorless contest. That was Reese's double. The Crackers figure if they can

Reckless baseball stopped a budding Chick rally in the first. Durham retired the first two batters easily, fanning Grace for the second out. McCoy walked. Triplett singled over second, Mauldin came in fast and cut down McCoy

CRACKERS SCORE.

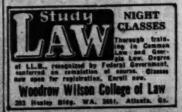

The Crackers opened the scoring in the second, nicking Martynik for two runs on three hits. Rose beat out a hit to short, Mailho forced Rose, Reese to Blakeney. Hill beat out a hit to second and Richards walked, loading the bases. Chatham's single to right scored Mailho. Durham flied to right and Hill scored after the right and Hill scored after the catch. Mauldin popped to Reese to end the rally.

Top-seeded Preston Chambers will meet Raymond Smith this afternoon in the feature match of the third annual Kennolia fall tennis tournament.

Bill Moore, city champion and seeded two, will play Bitsy Brown, and Malcolm Manley will meet and Malcolm Manley will meet third. Giants Split as Cubs Drop Pair to Bad Bees News of Gate City

NATIONAL LEAD INCREASED; HUB WINS 19TH GAME

Bees Execute Triple Play, Defeating Bruins Twice, 9-0, 4-2.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The New York Giants, after winning the opener by 12 to 2, split a double-header with the Pirates yesterday by dropping the nightcap, 6 to 2. As the second-place Cubs lost two, the Giants increased their National league lead to two and a half games.

Beaten by Southpaw Carl Hubbell in the opener, the Pirates took to the left-handed siants of Al Smith in the second game for nine Smith in the second game for nine of their 10 hits and all of their runs. It was Hubbell's 19th win of the year.

Aided by a triple play and two double plays, the Boston Bees defeated the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 2, in the second game to sweep the double-header, after John Lanning shut out the Chicagoans with five hits, 9 to 0, in the opener. The Bees banged their one-time nemesis, Tex Carleton, for eight runs on as many hits in the fifth inning of the first game.

The Brooklyn Dodgers opened their last western trip of the season by sweeping the first of three straight double-headers with the Reds. After taking the opener, 4-2, the Dodgers came back behind the fine pitching of Rookle Charles (Buck) Marrow, a big right-hander just up from Louis-ville, to win the second, 11-2.

Joe Medwick's double in the 14th inning scored Terry Moore to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 9-to-8 victory over Philadelphia in the first game of a double-header, and Lon Warneke blank-header, and Lon warneke blankvictory over Philadelphia 1-0 for his 18th victory.

Don Meade Denied 'Another Chance'

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 14.—(R)—
Don Meade, rider of two Kentucky
Derby winners who was ruled off the turf at the peak of his career, pleaded again today for "another chance"—and lost.

The State Racing Commission voted unanimously to deny his petition for reinstatement after the jockey admitted he bet on horses other than his own mounts but said he had learned his lesson.

"I've been set down for 18 months," Meade said, "and that amounts to about four years of a jockey's riding career. Since then I have behaved myself and I think
I ought to have another chance."

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. The World Champion Yankees, held to three runs in their last two games, regained their batting eye with a couple of bangs yesterday as they swamped the Cleveland Indians, 17 to 5, in the opener of a four-game series.

Led by Bill Dickey, with a double and three singles for a perfect day; Myril Hoag, with a double and two singles, and Lou Gehrig, who blasted out his 34th home run of the year, the champs bat-tered three Cleveland pitchers for 16 hits. Eleven bases on balls also were a big help in their run-pro

DanO'Connor To Wrestle Steinborn

Dan O'Connor, the Irish wrestling star, never seems to get a break. Two weeks ago he was going great against Everett Marshall, only to suffer an injury after 45 minutes of grappling that cost him the match. Tonight he was billed to meet Karl Davis in the headliner at the ball park, but Davis can't go through with it and O'Connor will be forced to oppose Milo Steinborn and his dreaded ear hug, instead.

Davis had a battle with Dick Raines the other night and didn't think much of a pain in his side until yesterday when X-rays show-ed him to have three broken ribs. Speer immediately shoved the powerful Steinborn into the spot against the popular O'Connor. It should be a most interesting attraction and is the first meeting of the pair.

There is also plenty of dynamite in the other matches. Rosy (Red) Ryan, who made a big hit here on the last show, will tackle Bad Babe Zaharias in the semifinal.

> Brewer introduced proposals for rules yesterday to wipe out fu-ture neopotism in the school department, eliminating employment of third-degree relationship to board members, and another to prevent board members holding office in the Parent-Teachers' Association. Both were referred to the rules committee.

The position of supervisor of high schools was created and Miss Laura Jeter, now assistant principal at Joe E. Brown Junior High school, was elected to it. Dr. Sutton said she would aid in better ing teaching and the relationship between teachers and children, doing much to eliminate failures

Music Supervisor.

Instead of electing a director of public school music, to succeed L. G. Nilson, who resigned, the board elected a supervisor of music in high schools, naming Miss Grace O'Callahan, now at Commercial High, to the job. There is al-ready an elementary school music

The board transferred $10,000 in accumulated funds to supplies and materials accounts, and also voted to transfer $5,000 from the textbook fund for purchase of instructive equipment. The department recently received $103,000 from the state for textbooks.

Outlining his preliminary plans for summer schools, the superintendent said students can make up courses or take advanced work. Teachers may be colled on for one summer of teaching every three years. The classes in summer schools would be operated on the same basis as in winter session, he said.

City Pupils Fewer; County Trend Cited

School enrollment dropped off in every classification this year, except in senior white schools, Dr. Willis A. Sutton, school superintendent, said yesterday. There are 929 fewer white students this year than last, and 1,499 fewer negro pupils, he reported. The increase in white high school enrollment was 491 but registration in the elementary white schools fell of 1,316 in comparison with 1936 figures. The superintendent attributed the decrease largely to many

WHEN Washington Seminary opens its doors tomorrow morning for the school's sixtieth session, students will enjoy hearing where their teachers spent the summer vacation and some of their interesting experiences. Thrilling incidents marked Mimi O'Beirne's trip to the Philippines and Japan. As a teacher of the Seminary kindergarten, Mimi is the school's youngest faculty member. Incidentally, Mimi is a graduate of the Seminary. Mrs. Aubrey Fisher, the Seminary's popular study hall teacher, passed the summer in tropical Cuba, where many courtesies were extended to her by the students enrolled at the Seminary last year from the republic. Especially did Trina Perez see that nothing of interest escaped the eyes of Mrs. Fisher, who was also entertained by Elvira Bergnes, a graduate of the Seminary last

MY DAY

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Monday.—Yesterday was a most glorious day and, as the Potomac is still in the Hudson river, we boarded her at Poughkeepsie, salled down below West Point and got back about 5:30. The shadows on the hills were beautiful as the clouds sailed by overhead. Mr. Norman Davis remarked that many Americans would travel miles in Europe to see scenery such as we were passing through in the high-lands and yet, just because we are accustomed to it, we hardly give it a thought.

No one talks of anything else these days except the very precarious situation in which the entire world sems to be floundering. How

We also deal with this question, of necessity, on an emergency basis when floods occur, but we must look far into the future and must control the causes of floods and thereby return much of our land to a condition where it can support a people with a reasonably good standard of living. FRIENDLY COUNSEL By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Dear Miss Chatfield:
Husband is as good as gold. I adore him and wouldn't hurt his feelings for anything in the world; but he is health crazy. If he were really ill nobody vould be more sympathetic with him than I, yet most of his ills are imaginary. He must take pills to put him to sleep and I who stay in the same room with him know that he knocks it off without the aid of pills. His nose gives him trouble and he takes it to every doctor in town, has prescriptions filled and after a month decides that his nose is better. Next it is his eyes, his kidneys, his stomach and his teeth. A family could live comfortably on what he spends for medicine and he never takes more than half a bottle of any of them.

He has a good job or he couldn't indulge as he does. How he keeps it I don't understand, carrying on as he does. Our little four-year-old baby is already beginning to mimle him, playing sick and calling for the doctor. I am almost crasy as a result of this health phobia and I am terribly afraid it will play havoc with our family. Thank you for any advice.

When father and mother are vitally concerned with the state of their health, this subject predominates in the family conversation. When the medicine chest is crammed with pills and potions and the youngsters see their parents eternally putting in a pill or pouring out putting in a pill or pouring out the contents of a medicine bot-tle, they get the idea that this is normal procedure. And they follow suit.

Miss Marion Reinhardt, daugh ter of Mrs. Mark Reinhardt, whole at the cam I am calling to your attention, until I tried it myself. For days the pimple had been resiring its head on my temple, and final its, unable to longer resist. I ly unable to longer resist. I ly unable to longer resist. I ly unable to longer resist. I presed it hard, removing the core, but leaving an easy-to-bleed spot which had remained many days, Youne Belmont, Vivian Lame Robyt Youne Robot Rob Everybody that understands the neurasthenic has pity for him. We say he enjoys poor health. Oh no he doesn't! He's miserable and that's the reason he is always trying to do some-thing about it. Maybe he enjoys thing about it. Maybe he enjoys having attention focused upon him, even though he has to pay the physician for focusing it, and putting his family through torment in the process. But he is pretty miserable with his imaginary aches and pains which he has been nursing since he was a little boy in his mother's home.

Friend, don't let the medicine and the pills destroy your equi-librium and run you crazy; for your son's salvation depends on your remaining normal and healthy, as an offset to papa's aches and pains, grunts and groans, incessant conversation groans, incessant conversation about his eyes, ears, nose, throat, teeth, stomach, kidney, liver and what has he.

"Enjoyed your recent article about sun baths. A specialist told a friend of mine the cause of her breakdown in health was because she took sunbaths without covering her head, back of neck and upper part of spine, as sun rays were too strong for them. I think people generally do not understand this. The specialist said the head and upper part of spine are too sensitive. Yet I see mothers exsensitive. Yet I see mothers exposing babies on the beach sand with no protection, leaving them to swelter in the sun. Please warn people about this."

WOMEN WHO HOLD THEIR MEN NEVER LET THEM KNOW

No matter how much your back aches and your nerves scream, your husband, because by is only a man, can netzr understand why you are so hard to live with one week in every month.

Too often the honeymoon express is wrecked by the nagging tongue of a three-quarter wife. The wise woman never lets her husband know by outward sign that she is a victim of periodic pain.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Veggtable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the disconforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smilling Through."

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(P)—Rallying juice was turned on in the stock market today and recently slumping leaders vaulted for-ly slumping leaders vaulted for-ward 1 to 5 points generally and a few jumped as much as 15.

It was the best recovery since the start of the downturn and was attributed mainly to the belief of trading forces that the list had been greatly "oversold," that pos-sible business dullness this fall had been more than discounted had been more than discounted and that, even if the main stock trend points lower, a temporary rebound at least was past due.

There was no particularly in-spiring news from either domestic or foreign sectors, although the tenseness of far eastern and Mediterranean affairs was stressed by the President's calling of a special cabinet meeting to discuss these situations.

Prices tilted upward at the start, met sufficient offerings to put the brakes on for a while, then ran into buying power that for a time put the ticker tape two minutes behind floor dealings. After noon, though, the pace slowed to a crawl and extreme advances were cut down in many instances before the close.

Market Outlook

base for the winter.

COURTS & CO.—We would advocate a moderate long position as part of an accumulation schedule.

THOMSON & MCKINNON—In our opinion, increased trade and investment buying will be seen on every decline from present low levels.

FENNER & BEANE—We look for allies from time to time, but still expect hedges to prove a weight on the market for a time at least.

E. A. PIERCE & CO.—We look for increasing resistance to selling pressure to develop, as declines from present price level should prove of limited proportions. HUBBARD BROS. & CO.—We wether better over the south Tuesday and a well be very beneficial and may possibly increase movement by the end of the week to a considerable extent and while some really might easily take place during technical readjustments of values, we do not look for improvement of a permanent character until larger part of crophas been moved to market.

COURTS & CO.—We would continue a sideline position pending export movement in the belief that yesterday's bulge was occasioned by a lack of ocean freight space.

THOMSON & McKINNON—Because our prices were unduly influenced by factors outside the wheat market, it seems likely that a further substantial rally will occur. after which we favor sales of wheat.

FENNER & BEANE—Prices appear low enough to attract investment buying, but the country enters a period of real inflation, the bull market has only just started. Although the present technical reaction may not have run its full course, it is very dan-gerous to go short of stock today." But the market lacked a lot of having an inflation tinge even though prices rose. Trading volume was more than 1,000,000 shares under yesterday's and only occasionally was there any spirited activitity on the advance. The character of the buying was good, however, United States Steel, Chrysler and other high-priced issues showing activity, and it was noted that there was no selling pressure when the buying—part of which was short covering—dried

STOCK OPINIONS.

COURTS & CO.—Barring some actual untoward development, the improvement is likely to go further.

BEER & CO.—We believe the current recovery will extend for some time, subject, of course, to minor periods of hesitancy and correction.

THOMSON & MCKINNON—While some belated liquidation may be encountered, it is not likely to be as urgent as previously. We look for further recovery in stock prices before any consideration is given to a secondary reaction.

FENNER & BEANE—It appears logical to expect that after a severe decline of the proportions witnessed a more extended period of price consolidation would be a necessary prelude to a long upswing.

DOBBS & CO.—We are of the opinion that the rally can go much further, allowing, of course, for minor recessions. We would be inclined to hold purchases made recently for higher prices.

E. A. PIERGE & CO.—The rally no doubt has removed some of the weak margined accounts from the danger line, and general concensus is that the worst is over. gold to aid the country's credit

CHICAGO, Sept. 14 .- (AP)-Sudden right-about-face action of European importers, resulting in huge purchases of North American grain, helped whirl wheat up 3 cents a bushel today.

A total of more than 3,000,000 bushels, of which 2,000,000 bushels was wheat from Canada principally destined for Great Britain, is estimated to have been bought thus for overseas. The 1,000,000 bushels and upwards that was in addition to Canadian wheat consisted of 750,000 bushels of United States hard winter, part of it afloat and part to go from the Gulf of Mexico, as well as a quantity of Pacific coast domestic white wheat, 200,000 bushels of United States rye, and 100,000 bushels of Canadian barley.

Heretofore of late, European wheat buying has been chiefly from Russian sources. Unexpected wheat price jumps today in Liverpool, about 5 1-2 cents higher than looked for, were attributed largely to nervousness regarding scantiness of near-by supplies of breadstuffs, a circumstance influenced a good deal by advances of ocean freight rates.

Corn, rye and oats were re-sponsive to wheat market rallies.

Hurrying To School Brings Youth Gang Term

Brings Youth Gang Term

He was "just hurrying" to school to register for the fall term, a negro boy told Judge Jesse M. Wood yesterday, but the manner in which he was "hurrying" netted him four months on the chain gang.

Arraigned in misdemeanor court on a charge of speeding, Ed Harris said he was on his way to high school and didn't want to be late. County police, however, related how in his haste he had driven his automobile for several blocks with them in hot pursuit.

The chase, which occurred a week ago, ended when the negro overturned at West Fair and Chestnut street, the officers said, adding they suspected him of chain gang yesterday and the latter sought one of two men who held up a Varnville, S. C., drug store earlier in the day.

One of the men involved in the Varnville robbery was shot and seriously wounded in the leg as he fled from the scene of the crime. The other remains uncaptured. The wounded man said he is Charles Luchein, of Brunswick, an escape from the Georgia gang. In Atlanta, officials of the State Prison Commission said they had no record of Luchein. They added the name might be an alias.

New Prison System.

The Lincoln county break came just 24 hours after Governor Rivers revealed that he planned to submit to the general assembly at its forthcoming special session a proposal for the abolition of the chain gang system and the substitution therefor of a number of honor camps for men whose conduct warranted their being held.

outside the walls of the Tattnall county prison.

The negroes broke loose from their shackles as they were being taken from their camp to a road job on which they had been working. It was presumed that they broke loose by picking the shacles with picks and shovels. Their flight was not revealed until the truck on which they were riding reached the job and guards counted their charges.

Sheriff Hammond launched an immediate search. He later was aided by Homer Legge, Lincoln county ordinary and business manager.

county ordinary and business manager.

Names Not Reported.

Prison officials in Atlanta said the names of the men who escaped had not been reported to them.

"The sheriff and his deputies as well as the warden and guards are in the woods looking for the men," a prison official said. "The names and terms of the men will not be available until the warden has time to communicate with us."

Lincoln county borders on South Carolina and it was reported that some of the men had headed in the direction of that state.

Meanwhile Atlanta police were Meanwhile Atlanta police were notified to be on the lookout for

REFRESHING HEALTHFUL

Riding in the caboose of a freight train, bringing an insane woman home to Georgia, stranded in Nebraska with 34 cents is all in a day's work for Mrs. Ann Vincent and her 11-year-old granddaughter, Dolly Ann Fisher, of Oakland, Cal.

Mrs. Vincent is the only traveling caretaker in the United States for the Travelers' Aid Society, and with her granddaughter has traveled more than 100,000 miles throughout the nation combining philanthropic and pleasure trips.

Yesterday the "Travelers Aid traveler" paused in Atlanta at the Terminal Station between trains on a journey from Boston to the west coast. Under Mrs. Vincent's protective care were two little boys, Leonard Skillicorn, age five, and Tommy Love, age two.

"Leonard is going to the west coast for adoption," said Mrs. Vincent has been in her present work for eight years. She says, "I wanted to do something no one else was doing." For 16 years she did philanthropic work for the Lockwood School P.-T. A in Oakland. Her services were widespread. In addition to the efficient way in which she handles cases, she is a graduate nurse. This training has helped her in her present work also.

And Dolly is a big help to her grandmother. Though she is not yet in her teens she knows more about American history and geography than most girls her age. To date she has been in 41 states. Her mother was a dancer and although she wants to be an actress she admits that following in the footsteps of her grandmother is running a close second to a stage

Made Trip Here. "It's an odd thing," said Mrs. Vincent, "that the second trip I bring an insane woman home to Georgia. She had been in Oakland for some time, where the for some time, where the Masons had been caring for her. It took five days to make the trip. It was a very terrifying experience, but we made it and she was admitted to the state asylum.

"I year ago Dolly and I arrived in Miami on the tail of the memor-able hurricane. We were once de-layed by floods in Texas and Missouri and two years ago we rode through the middle of a dust While returning from a mission in New York, we were held up for 18 hours by the flood of the Green river in Wyoming. We rode in the caboose of a freight train from Chatam to Bennington, N. Y., as it was the only means of rail transportation between the two towns. It was only 50 miles, but it required seven hours to make the trip."

Mrs. Vincent and her grand-daughter left Oakland last Wednesday morning on their present trip. Their next stop will be in New Orleans, where they will add a 3-year-old girl to their company. Mrs. Vincent receives no pay for her work, her only remunera-tion being meals, berth aboard pullmans and living expenses. Her charges are old, young, black, white, cripples and mental embarrassing situations.

"I was taking a little colored boy to Reno and when we arrived at the station there were crowds going or coming. A porter met me to take my young charge. When the boy realized he was going to leave me, he screamed at the top of his lungs the fact that 'he didn't want to leave Grandma!' Of course everybody heard him and many odd glances were shot in our direction, but it's all in a day's work for me. I love it."

SECOND PLEA ARGUED FOR EDITH MAXWELL

STAUNTON, Va., Sept. 14.—(AP) Arguments were concluded today before the Virginia supreme court of appeals in the case of Edith Maxwell, former Wise county school teacher, who is seeking to have the tribunal set aside a murder conviction on a charge of killing her father, Trigg Maxwell.

The defendant was convicted at her first trial and sentenced to 25 years in prison. On an appeal the supreme court set aside the verdict. The second jury returned a second-degree verdict and fixed her punishment at 20 years in the penitentiary.
